From the Principal's Pen

The Value of Reading

We read to children for all the same reasons we talk with children: to reassure, to entertain, to bond; to inform or explain, to arouse curiosity, to inspire. When reading aloud, we also condition the child's brain to associate reading with pleasure, create background knowledge, build vocabulary, and provide a reading role model. The value of reading is endless. Are you taking advantage of this superpower?

Oral Language: the Primary Aspect of the Big 6. Underpins all other elements of the Big 6 and overarches the Big 6. Speaking and Listening is entwined through all the other aspects of literacy development. What students speak is what they read and what they write. We are reliant on parents to talk, talk, and talk, although this needs to be much more than just giving directions. By the age of 3 children already have vast differences in their word knowledge, due to their exposure to elaborate oral language in the home. The broader the vocabulary, the more successfully literate the child.

This does not have to be an onerous task or even a formal one. Some guiding questions you can try at home:

What do I already know about this topic? What have I already read that seems similar to this text? What does this remind me of? Why...? Why do you think? What is the problem? What did you think about? Why did the character? Predict what would happen if? What is the lesson? How does the author feel about?

Respect: It's everyone business

Respect is a two way street. In order to get respect you must first give it. This is not always easy especially when life is so busy and our lives are so full. Respect is the core value on which we will build our school. Respect. It's everyone's business.

Sports Report

Our Cross-Country (and Ball Games) carnival is coming up on Wednesday 29th March. Practice is important to ensure this is a fun filled day for all. It is a normal school day and all students will be participating and encouraged to do their house proud.

NAPLAN

The Year 3, 5, 7 and 9 classes will take part in the National Assessment of Literacy and Numeracy in Week 9. Tuesday will be Reading, Wednesday will be Language Conventions and Thursday will be Numeracy. Any tests missed will be made up on Friday or Monday. The purpose of this test is to gather data on how students are tracking against the Nation. The school uses this information to inform next steps in both school and student improvement. It is important to note that this test is only a point in time capture and does not measure how kind a student is or how respectful they are to their peers and teachers.

Playgroup

It was a wonderful to see so many mums (and a dad!) coming to our inaugural JSS Playgroup. We coloured, created, ate, played, read and sang until our small humans could not keep their eyes open any longer.

Your support was overwhelming and I look forward to seeing you all again next Thursday 16th March

Leading for the Future

On behalf of the school community I would like to thank Sgt Peter Reimers for being a part of our Leader's Ceremony. Our leader's have already led and modelled the highest level of expected behaviour. I am so proud to have the opportunity to work along side this fine young people this year.

Reading at JSS

Last week we looked at what reading looks like at home within the three stages (prior to school, beginning readers & fluent readers). Today we look at Partnerships that are integral to the education of teaching your children to read.

Building strong parent partnerships

Parents play an integral role in the education of their children. Much of what children learn takes place through everyday experiences at home.

Children's literacy and numeracy development can be improved when parents encourage learning through everyday activities. Modelling literacy and numeracy behaviours helps children recognise the value of these skills.

What it looks like...

- 📖 children watching and listening to parents read
- 📖 children reading and talking about stories with parents
- 📖 discussing ideas in books and magazines together
- 📖 encouraging children to think and ask questions
- 📖 cooking with children – reading the recipes and focusing on measurement

Building strong community partnerships

This week we will talk about the importance of the library. Borrowing books from the library is a fabulous way to immerse your children in rich and wonderful texts at a low cost. While the school library is a valuable resource – don't forget the Jandowae Community & Cultural Centre (Library). If they don't have the book you and your children are after, they will most likely be able to order it in. The girls (Maree, Violy & Karel) are only too happy to assist you in every aspect of their library, including how to book out and read online texts. Head over to the Western Downs Libraries webpage and find out the latest offerings our local libraries have. Story time is held at the library each 2nd & 5th Tuesday of the Month at 10:00am – where the fabulous girls will share a story and create craftworks with all children.

What it looks like...

- 📖 head down to the Jandowae Community and Cultural Centre – organise your family library card and start borrowing books.
- 📖 come and join our local playgroup – Every SECOND Thursday morning between 10am-12noon.
- 📖 WDRC – Western Downs Regional Council Libraries - <https://westerndowns.spydus.com/cgi-bin/spydus.exe/MSGTRN/WPAC/HOME>

High school students have been visiting our Early Years classrooms this year to share a love of reading. Year 7/8 students read weekly with Year 1/2 while Year 9/10 visit Prep/1.

Our school swimming lessons wouldn't be possible without the help and support of our parents/carers, teacher aides, our bus drivers and Jandowae pool staff. Thank you for all that you do!

Jandowae Playgroup

Last week we hosted the first Jandowae Playgroup at Jandowae SS. It was fantastic to see the community support and involvement in this event. Computer room antics Support was split between resident touch-typist Mrs Haig and Miss Alana, during a recent challenge in Year 6 Digital Technology. Miss Alana conceded defeat, heading home to practise for their next duel, while Mrs Haig has already agreed that Miss Alana's strengths lie with horsemanship, at which Mrs Haig will be no competition whatsoever!

All jokes aside, this year students are using Typing Club to familiarise themselves with the keyboard. Please contact Mrs Haig—khaig13@eq.edu.au—if you would like your child's login details so they can practise at home.
